

An Informational Session For Family And Friends Of The Incarcerated

Presented by: The State Appellate Defender Office (SADO)

Who is SADO?

The State Appellate Defender Office (SADO) represents indigent criminal defendants on appeal from their felony criminal convictions. SADO has two office locations, in Detroit and Lansing. SADO attorneys represent those with convictions arising out of all counties within the State of Michigan.

How Can SADO Help Families?

It can be a scary and confusing time when your loved one is convicted of a crime and sentenced to the Michigan Department of Corrections (MDOC). SADO would like to invite families affected by incarceration to join us for a free informational session about what to expect after a loved one has been convicted and sentenced to prison. Attendees of this informational session can talk with SADO staff about the process of appealing a conviction, how an appeal is different from the trial or plea proceedings, and will learn how to stay connected with incarcerated loved ones through visits and letters, and much more.

Other Information

Dates for upcoming sessions are listed to the right. Friends and family members interested in attending should call SADO for details or visit www.SADO.org.

Specifics of an individual's case will not be discussed at these sessions and legal advice will not be given. These sessions are intended to be informational only.

Please RSVP at least two days in advance to Marilena David-Martin mdavid@sado.org
