

Taxpayer Information Session

Part of the “Your Best Life: Reentry Workshop Series”

Presented by SADO’s Project Reentry

What will this workshop include?

This workshop will include interactive learning around paying taxes and filing your tax return. Other topics that may be covered include child support and the earned income tax credit. The speakers for the workshop will be students from the University of Michigan Law School’s Low-Income Taxpayer Clinic. Students from this clinic help low-income taxpayers tackle and resolve issues with the Internal Revenue Service. They help to educate clients about rights and responsibilities as taxpayers, create outreach programs, and help clients to understand tax issues that may impact them.

After the learning and activity portion of the workshop, you will be able to continue working with the facilitators to get further 1 on 1 help with any questions you may have OR break off into our enrichment portion of the night! We will have a board game available to play and allow time for mingling and networking while enjoying refreshments.
