

State Appellate Defender Office
Criminal Defense Resource Center

Juliet Yackel has devoted her career to the defense of death penalty cases and has special expertise in the area of intellectual disability. She started working as a death penalty lawyer in 1992 before shifting her focus to capital mitigation, and has worked on cases nationwide.

Juliet regularly serves as invited faculty at national, state and local seminars regarding best practices in death penalty cases, and she also teaches for the American Psychological Association on the subject of evaluating intellectual disability in capital cases.

Tuesday, May 21, 2024
Noon-1:30 pm | Up to 1.5 CLE
Via Zoom

How to Identify & Effectively Use Clients' Intellectual Disability (Part II)

Intellectual disability has been used successfully in criminal cases to achieve lower sentences, suppress statements, and much more. Nevertheless, persons with intellectual disability often go to great lengths to hide their disability – even from their lawyers – due to shame and embarrassment.

At this training, attendees will learn how to effectively document ID, educate relevant parties about ID (particularly judges or prosecutors who may have difficulties getting past stereotypes & misconception), and tell the client's story in a way that promotes positive outcomes.

This is the second part of a two-part training. Part I was held on 4/16/24. Even if you attended Part I, you must register separately for Part II.

Register via the code at right, or at www.sado.org/go/IDPartTwo

Contact: cdrc@sado.org

