

COLLATERAL CONSEQUENCES OF JUVENILE DELINQUENCIES

THURSDAY, AUGUST 15
FROM NOON TO 1 PM

The Youth Defense Project at the State Appellate Defender Office and Michigan Appellate Assigned Counsel System continues its series of youth defense trainings with a presentation on collateral consequences of juvenile delinquencies.

The consequences of an adjudication in juvenile court can extend beyond the terms of the disposition. Whether it is financial aid, military service, immigration, or housing, it is important for attorneys to understand what impact an adjudication will have on the life of their client so they can properly advise them. SADO's Youth Defense Project Director, Josh Pease, will present on these consequences.

This training is restricted to defense attorneys and members of defense teams. Please register in advance at www.sado.org/go/collateralcons. If you have any questions, please contact Josh Pease at jpease@sado.org or 517-334-1205.

QR code for registration link:

JOSH PEASE

is the Youth Defense Project Director at SADO, where he has help lead efforts to improve youth defense throughout Michigan. He has lead and presented at numerous delinquency trainings, helped draft legislation and court rules, and been involved with youth defense initiatives with organizations such as MIDC and the Gault Center. He is also very active with the State Bar of Michigan, volunteering with several committees and serving as an officer for both the Children's Law Section and Family Law Section. Josh worked in private practice for nearly a decade before joining SADO in 2022.